AST’s standard drive head is larger than the waveguide portion of this switch so it can accommodate the larger 19 pin connector and house 4 indicating contacts. When only 2 contacts are needed AST can provide a miniature drive head which is the same size as the waveguide & has a 10 pin connector. This option is also useful when weight and size is an issue.